A Word About the Instructor:

Liz Batterson has an elementary teaching credential and a Bachelor's degree from UCLA. She has been teaching school-age children for ten years and has directed numerous children's plays and musicals, including Charlie and the Chocolate Factory. She has grown up in Atwater Village. Her inspiration for this class is her 17-month old toddler who loves to move. She is assisted by her sister Diana who is a Special Education teacher with expertise in the area of pre-schoolers with special needs.
